BEFORE THE GREAT RACE.

A Beautiful Day for the College Event at New London.

NEW LONDON, June 30.—The day of the great intercollegiate race is at last here, and a good day it is. Early this morning a thick fog covered the city, and it was practically impossible to see anything ten feet away; but the sun in an hour or two burned that all away and left the sky bright and the air clear.

There is at this time no breeze blowing, and the water this side of the draw-bridge is as still as a duck pond.

Before 9 o'clock this morning Bob Cook and George Adee, the Yale boatmen, came down from the Yale quarters and showed themselves at the Crocker House. They seemed not quite so jovial as usual, but were willing to talk to all their Yale friends.

A few moments later Nelson Perkins and Charles Adams came down from the Crocker House. They seemed not quite so jovial as usual, but were willing to talk to all their Yale friends.

At 9 o'clock the referee's launch and the Yale crew were in the water. The Yale crew was in the water. The Yale crew was in the water.

except the referee's launch and the Yale crew.

On the latter all the "heelers" of the Yale crew will rather, and before the race is finished there is sure to be one happy and one disconsolate faction on the dock.

HARVARD FAIRLY CONFIDENT.

There is no use denying the fact that Harvard men are fairly confident. Not only the supporters of the crew feel so, but those on the very inside show they think that Harvard will make a good showing, even if she doesn't win.

The improvement made during the last few days by the Cambridge crew has had its effect on the spirits of the Crimson-wearers, and this morning there is a good deal of talk about a Harvard victory.

The more conservative say that Yale will probably win, but by a much smaller margin than last year. The Yale men themselves are fairly confident, although not one of them expects a victory by more than three or four lengths at the least, and all are looking for a hot and inspiring race.

BETTING ALMOST UNSEEN.

Betting is almost unseen. The Harvard financiers want better odds than Yale will give.

The coaches of both crews say that their men are in good condition and ready for the race.

Fearing is the only Harvard man of whom any one is afraid, and he has been up wonderfully during the last few days. All the Yale men are very fit.

TALK OF POSTPONEMENT.

There has been a little talk of postponing the race till evening. An insider said a few minutes ago that Yale did not want to row in the wind blowing upstream, for then the race would be nothing but a trial of brute strength. In that case Yale would be certain of defeat.

O'BEIRNE WILL NOT RESIGN.

Assistant Immigration Commissioner Fighting for His Place

Now in Washington Working a Senatorial Pull.

Gen. James R. O'Beirne, Assistant Commissioner of Immigration, whose resignation was asked for last Monday by Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle, refuses to resign. The general is going to try and hold on to his position whether he is wanted or not.

When he received an intimation that his resignation would be acceptable he told some of his friends that he would not intend to resign, but would exert all his power and the influence of his friends to hold on to the $4,500 position.

Wednesday afternoon he received a telegram from a friend in Washington, saying that a certain Senator was then in town, and telling him to go on immediately. The general left last night for Washington, and it is said that he and the Senator are working hard with Secretary Carlisle to have the position retained.

Gen. O'Beirne was an active stump speaker for the Republican party during the last campaign, and when the Democrats took possession of the Administration he was one of the candidates for his place. He was allowed to hold his position, however, until Dr. Senner should become thoroughly familiar with immigration matters.

The pressure for the place has again become strong, and so Secretary Carlisle called on O'Beirne to step out. It is said that Senator McPherson, of New Jersey, wants the place for a friend of his, Lane, and that he is likely to get it.

Ellis Island people say O'Beirne will never resign. Secretary Carlisle will have to remove him if he wants the place. They are watching the outcome of the fight with much interest.

LONG-DISTANCE CYCLE RACE

Borge, of Dresden, Leading the Other Riders Towards Berlin.

VIENNA, June 30.—Interest in the long-distance bicycle race from Florida, four miles from this city, to Berlin, continues to increase. The Austrian favorite, Herr Sobotta, on whom considerable money was wagered, is practicing the race. His machine broke down at Stockerau last night.

Herr Lehn, the German rider, who is backed heavily to win by his countrymen, was the twenty-fourth contestant to arrive at Igau, in Moravia. He was delayed for two hours near Kolin by a furious rainstorm.

Jorge, of Dresden, was leading all the riders last night. He arrived at Jank-Buntzlau, in Bohemia, at 8.10 o'clock last evening, having covered 163 miles in fourteen hours and nineteen minutes. He was in good condition.

JOHN HARVEY, THE CROOK, DEAD.

NIAGARA FALLS, June 30.—Three strange men arrived here on the Michigan Central train the other night. One of them was very ill and apparently suffering from a fever.

They went to a small hotel and rather obscure hotel, and after putting the sick man to bed, his companions hunted up a doctor and soon after left.

The sick man is now dead. He was John Harvey, alias Arling, one of the most noted expert confidence men and all-around crooks in the country.

Soon after the man's arrival, his companions showed big rolls of bills and said they would pay for any attendance.

The hotel keeper says that Harvey had a roll as big as that of his companions, but it has gone with the men and he died without a cent.

Early in the '70s Harvey was a member of the bar in Hamilton, O., where he had considerable big rolls of bills and said they would pay for any attendance.

The Coroner has started to investigate the matter to see if the causes of death were poisoning, but thus far has made little headway.

NOTHING WILL DETAIN THEM.

Mrs. Cleveland Expected at Buzzards Bay July 17.

The press of official business still keeps President Cleveland at Washington, although he is anxious to join Mrs. Cleveland at Buzzards Bay as soon as possible.

He is in daily communication with that place, and is full of pleasant anticipations for July 17, on which day he will go there, no matter what happens. He will throw aside official business for the time being, however, and hurry to Buzzards Bay in case he is summoned earlier.

Mrs. Cleveland is at present enjoying excellent health, and those who are in the secret say that the month of July will be a memorable one in the Cleveland family. The tiny little outfit that has been purchased is said to be as pretty as a picture.

KILLED IN RAHWAY.

Unknown Well-Dressed Man Struck by a Train.

RAHWAY, N. J., June 30.—An unknown respectable dressed man about twenty-five years of age was struck and instantly killed by train No. 121, west-bound, at the Grand street crossing late last night.

Among his belongings were a lady's suit and necktie, an excursion ticket from Newark to New York and a memorandum showing accounts from April 1 to June 1, 1903.

Among the addresses found on his person was Fred W. Leonard, 154 Chestnut street, Newark; L. Elliott Sheldon, Hotel Long Branch, near Mrs. Barr; and William Elliott, 104 Fourteenth, Royal Artillery, Fort Rowner, Gosport, Hants, England, gunner.

The body was taken to Ryno's morgue.
